

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF LOUISIANA
ALEXANDRIA DIVISION

JACKSON CIVIL ACTION NO. 05-1413
VERSUS U.S. DISTRICT JUDGE F. A. LITTLE, JR.
STALDER U.S. MAGISTRATE JUDGE JAMES D. KIRK

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION OF MAGISTRATE JUDGE

Before the court is a motion by plaintiff, which the court construes as a motion for a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction [Doc. # 15] filed on April 6, 2006. Plaintiff asks the court to order defendant to provide him with adequate medical treatment for spider bites and for a knot on his groin.

Rule 65 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure provides, in pertinent part, as follows:

- (b) A temporary restraining order may be granted without written or oral notice to the adverse party or that party's attorney only if (1) it clearly appears from specific facts shown by affidavit or by the verified complaint that immediate and irreparable injury, loss or damage will result to the applicant before the adverse party or that party's attorney can be heard in opposition, and (2) the applicant's attorney certifies to the court in writing the efforts, if any, which have been made to give the notice and the reasons supporting the claim that notice should not be required.

In order for plaintiff to obtain a preliminary injunction, he must show: (1) a substantial likelihood that his cause will succeed on the merits, (2) a substantial threat of irreparable injury if the injunction is not granted, (3) that the threatened injury outweighs the threatened harm the injunction may do to the opposing party, and (4) that the court granting the injunction will not disserve the public interest. Piedmont Heights Civic Club, Inc. v. Moreland, 637 F.2d 430 (5th Cir. 1981).

In the instant case, plaintiff has failed to meet the requirements set forth above. The facts alleged do not appear by affidavit and the motion is not verified. Further, plaintiff has not alleged any specific facts to show that immediate and irreparable injury, loss, or damage will result to him before the adverse party can be heard in opposition and there is no substantial threat of irreparable injury prior to the time a hearing can be held in this matter. Additionally, plaintiff has not shown that there is a substantial likelihood that his cause will succeed on the merits. Further, plaintiff admits he has received medical treatment for the bites and a mere disagreement as to the adequacy of it does not rise to a constitutional claim. Plaintiff also admits that he has chosen not to seek medical treatment for the groin knot.

Plaintiff's motions for temporary restraining order and for preliminary injunction should be denied.

Conclusion

For the foregoing reasons, IT IS RECOMMENDED that plaintiff's requests for temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction [Doc. #15] be DENIED.

OBJECTIONS

THUS DONE AND SIGNED in chambers, in Alexandria, Louisiana, on this 21st day of April, 2006.
